Research Bulletin

OF THE

National Education Association

VOLUME XX

1942

The Research Bulletin is issued by the Research Division, a section of the headquarters staff of the National Education Association. This Division was created in February 1922, for the purpose of conducting scientific studies of special interest to members of the teaching profession.

RESEARCH DIVISION
NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION
OF THE UNITED STATES
1201 Sixteenth Street, Northwest, Washington, D. C.

Research Bulletin

VOLUME XX

1942

No. 1, January—"Reading Instruction in Secondary Schools"

No. 2, March—"Teacher Personnel Procedures: Selection and Appointment"

No. 3, May—"Teacher Personnel Procedures: Employment Conditions in Service"

No. 4, September—"Federal Aid for Education: A Review of Pertinent Facts"

No. 5, November—"State School Finance Systems"

Research Bulletin

OF THE

National Education Association

INDEX TO VOLUME XX, 1942

Absence: extended leaves for travel and professional improvement, 93; maternity leave, 108; sabbatical leave, 94; salary payments or deductions during brief periods, 91; sick leave and related problems, 99–103.
Acknowledgments: of cooperation in preparation of bulletin on reading instruction, 44–45, 48; of cooperation in preparation of bulletin on state school finance systems, 195.
Administrative units: reorganization of local school, 176.
Advisory Committee on Education: quoted, 122, 148; referred to, 120.
Age: limits for new teachers, 59; or disability as basis for termination of service, 109; practices governing termination of service of older teachers, 109.
Alexander, W. M.: referred to, 76.
American Association of Teachers Colleges: referred to, 57.
American Council on Education: sponsorship of National Teacher Examinations, 68.
American Council on Education, Commission on Teacher Education: referred to, 57.
American Education Week: referred to, 147.
Anderson, Earl W.: referred to, 76.
Anderson, Homer W.: quoted, 70.
Anderson, Irving H.: referred to, 33, 35.
Anderson, W. A.: referred to, 68.
Austin, Agnes S.: referred to, 33.

Babcock, F. Lawrence: referred to, 108.
Bartlett, Hall: referred to, 6, 13.
Barton, William A.: referred to, 24.
Bear, R. M.: referred to, 29, 33.
Betts, Emmett A.: referred to, 33.
Blair, Glenn M.: referred to, 9, 35.
Boards of education: responsibility of, in selection and appointment of teachers, 54–55, 75; rules of, on marriage, 61; set standards of eligibility for teacher appointment, 56–63.
Bond, Guy L.: referred to, 32, 33.
Brechbill, Henry: referred to, 76.
Brink, W. G.: referred to, 17, 18.
Brower, F. Beatrice: referred to, 100.
Brownell, S. M.: referred to, 76.
Burke, A. J.: referred to, 147.

California School Code: referred to, 94.
Carroll, Robert P.: referred to, 35.
Challman, R. C.: referred to, 32.
Chamberlain, Leo M.: referred to, 76.
Chisholm, Leslie L.: referred to, 138, 139.
Civilian Conservation Corps: federal money given to, 122.
Cleary, F. D.: referred to, 18.
Clettenberg, J. E.: referred to, 76.
Columbus, Christopher: referred to, 196.
Commission of Inquiry on Public Service Personnel: referred to, 73, 76, 112.
Committee on Vocational Education: appointed by President Roosevelt, 122.
Continental Congress: referred to, 121.
Cooke, Dennis H.: referred to, 62, 76, 101, 112.
Cooperative Test Service: National Teacher Examinations given and scored by, 68.
Coulbourn, John: referred to, 66, 76.
Crider, Blake: referred to, 33.
Cubberley, E. P.: referred to, 121.
Curriculum: curriculum status of special classes in reading, 46; status of reading instruction in secondary schools, 10.
Curtis, Francis D.: referred to, 16, 31.
Cyr, F. W.: referred to, 147.

Davis, Hazel: referred to, 112.
Dearborn, W. F.: referred to, 29, 33, 35.
Deffenbaugh, Walter S.: referred to, 76.
Dehl, Kermit: referred to, 9.
Deighton, L. C.: referred to, 20.
Denton, C. F.: referred to, 17.
Dix, John P.: referred to, 25.
Dolch, Edward W.: referred to, 16, 26.

Eames, Thomas H.: referred to, 33.
Economic ability: estimated school revenue per child, 135, 137, 138; factors underlying differences in, 138, 139; income per adult, 135, 136; measures of, 171–72; of the states to support education, 135–39; percent of relative taxpaying ability expended for public schools, 1935-36, 141, 142; percent of relative taxpaying ability required to support a school program, 143. See also Finance.
Educational opportunity: advisory committees on education, 122–23; average length of school year, 126, 128; average salaries paid, 126, 129; current expenditure per pupil, 126, 127, 128; enrolment in high schools, 128, 130; inequalities of, 120, 126–30; need of equalization of, 123; per-pupil value of school property, 126; reasons for inequalities, 128; relative economic ability of the states to support education, 135–39; underlies happiness and economic security of American people, 152. See also Federal aid for education.
Eells, Walter C.: referred to, 17.
Elsbree, Willard S.: referred to, 76, 112.
Enrolment: and attendance as bases of apportioning general aid, 166–67, 186–89; in high schools, 128, 130.
Ethics: NEA's Code of Ethics quoted, 105; teachers' professional obligations re outside paid activities, 90.

Federal aid for education: a long-standing need, 120; activities for teachers in enactment of federal aid bill, 146–47; advisory committees on education, 122–23; current needs for, 123, 152, 176; earlier proposals of, sponsored by National Education Association, 122; financial efforts of the states to support schools, a factor in, 140–43; history of, 121–22; inequalities of educational opportunity, a factor in, 126–30; local teachers associations and enactment of federal aid bill, 146–47; mobility of the population, a factor in, 124–25; next steps toward enactment of pending bill, 146–47; the present bill, 123; probable allocation of funds under pending bill, 144–45; relative economic ability of the states to support education, a factor in, 135–39; relative educational responsibilities of the states, a factor in, 131–34; scope and arrangement of bulletin on, 123; selected references on, 147; state and local organization for enactment of federal aid bill, 146; state education associations and enactment of federal aid bill, 147.
Feldman, G. B.: referred to, 27.
Fendrick, Paul: referred to, 17, 33.
Ferguson, E. C.: referred to, 20.
Fernald, Grace M.: referred to, 33, 34.
Finance: actual efforts of the states to support schools, 140, 141, 142; apportionment of state aid for schools, 165–74, 186–94; cost of the minimum program, 170–71; cost of school foundation programs, 166, 167–68, 186–89; efforts required to support a defensible minimum school program, 140–43; enrolment and attendance as bases of apportioning general aid, 166–67, 186–89; equalization aid, 165, 169–72, 175–76, 190–91; estimated school revenue per person aged 5 to 17 which would have been received in 1939-40 under federal aid bill, 145; financial efforts of the states to support schools, 140–43; fiscal problems of the schools involving investigation of local financial practices, 176; income from state permanent school funds, 163–64, 185; legislative appropriations from state general funds, 162–63, 164, 184; major trends and problems in state school finance, 175–76; measures of financial ability, 171–72; necessity of postwar planning, 176; need of school finance information, 153; number of teachers, teaching positions, salaries paid, or instruction units, as bases of apportioning general aid, 166, 167, 186–89; percent of school revenues from the federal government, 156–57, 158, 179; percent of school revenues from state sources, 154–58, 159, 178; possibilities for improvement of state school finance systems, 152; probable allocation of funds under federal aid bill, 144–45; revised statements now available, 153; rival advantages of legislative appropriations and earmarked taxes, 163; school census as a basis of apportioning general aid, 165–66, 186–89; school revenue from earmarked taxes, 158–62, 180–83; share of federal, state, and local governments in school support, 156–57, 176; shift in sources of school revenue, 159; special aid, 165, 172–74, 176, 192–94; state general aid, 165–69, 175, 186–89; state school revenues, 154–64; state support of current school expense program, 168–69, 186–89; trends in raising and distribution of funds, 175–76; uses of Research Bulletin on state school finance systems, 153. See also Economic ability; Federal aid for education.

Flanagan, John C.: referred to, 28.
Flynn, Louise: referred to, 30.
Friedman, K. C.: referred to, 18.

Gaines, F. P.: referred to, 32.
Gates, A. I.: referred to, 32, 33.
George-Deen Act: referred to, 122.
Gilbert, L. C.: referred to, 30.
Givens, Willard E.: forewords by, 4, 52, 84, 120, 152.
Glicksberg, Charles I.: referred to, 28.
Graves, Frank Pierrepont: quoted, 116; referred to, 112.
Gray, William S.: referred to, 6, 14, 23, 25, 29, 45.
Groves, Harold M.: referred to, 160.
Grummette, Jesse: referred to, 17.

Hall, P.: referred to, 28.
Halliburton, Richard: referred to, 22.
Harrison, M. Lucille: referred to, 23.
Harrison, Pat: and federal aid bill, 123.
Harrison-Black-Fletcher Bill: referred to, 122.
Harrison-Thomas-Fletcher Bill: referred to, 122.
Harvey, C. C.: referred to, 17.
Harvey, F. T.: referred to, 32.
Health services: and sick leave for teachers, 99; sick leave and related problems, 99–103; to teachers, 99, 113.
Heaps, W. A.: referred to, 23.
Henry, F. A.: referred to, 18.
Herrick, V. E.: referred to, 32.
Hill, C. M.: referred to, 76.
Hill, Lister: and federal aid bill, 123.
Hoover, Herbert: referred to, 122.

Imus, Henry A.: referred to, 33.
Individual differences: becoming acquainted with pupil needs, 12–14; conferences with individual pupils, 13; diagnosis of pupil difficulties in reading, 32; factors associated with special reading disabilities, 32; provisions for, in secondary-school reading instruction, 15; reading needs of individual pupils, 12–15, 36; some handicapped readers the teacher may encounter, 14; symptoms of reading handicaps frequently observed, 14–15.

Jacobs, L. B.: referred to, 17.
Johnsen, Julia E.: referred to, 147.
Judd, Charles H.: referred to, 112.

Kandel, I. L.: referred to, 76.
Kangley, Lucy: referred to, 18.
Kerbow, A. L.: referred to, 6.
Keyes, Rowena: referred to, 23.
Kingsley, J. Donald: referred to, 73, 76, 112.
Kopel, David: referred to, 13, 18, 33, 35.
Kuhlman, William D.: referred to, 101.

Lafferty, H. M.: referred to, 76.
LaGrone, N. C.: referred to, 20.
Laherty, E. J.: referred to, 32.
Librarians: selected booklists for high-school, 41; cooperation of, in improving pupil reading tastes and habits, 23.
Libraries: references on place of, in reading instruction, 23.
Logasa, Hannah: referred to, 23.
London, Jack: referred to, 19.
Luckiesch, Matthew: referred to, 29.
Ludenia, M. J.: referred to, 20.
Lynch, James M.: referred to, 76.

McCallister, J. M.: referred to, 14, 31.
McCullough, Connie: referred to, 18.
Malchow, E. C.: referred to, 18.
Mann, Charles R.: referred to, 122, 147.
Marriage: board rules on, 61; effect of, on employment status of women teachers in the school service, 107, 108; may married women qualify for appointment as teachers?, 60; of teachers, as a basis for termination of service, 107–109; of teachers, as related to eligibility, 60–61.
Maternity: cause of termination of service, 108.
Meece, Leonard E.: referred to, 76.
Migration: See Population.
Minimum programs: cost of, 166, 167–68, 170–71.
Moe, Maurice W.: referred to, 23.
Moehlman, Arthur B.: referred to, 112.
Moore, Joseph E.: referred to, 29.
Morale: maintaining morale of teachers, a continuing responsibility, 84.
Morrill Acts: referred to, 121.
Morrisett, Lloyd N.: referred to, 66, 76.
Mort, P. R.: referred to, 135, 137, 140, 141, 142, 143, 147.
Mosher, William E.: referred to, 73, 76, 112.
Moss, F. K.: referred to, 29.

National Advisory Committee on Education: appointed by President Hoover, 122.
National Association of Secondary-School Principals: questionnaire on reading submitted to members of, 44.
National Education Association: believes in educational opportunities for children, youth, and adults, 152; Code of Ethics quoted, 105; platform quoted, 54; proposals of federal aid sponsored by, 122, 123, 146, 176; salary policies advocated by, 87.
National Education Association, Committee on Equal Opportunity: report cited, 61, 76, 88; uniform contract plan urged by, 71.
National Education Association, Committee on Ethics: referred to, 90.
National Education Association, Committee on Tenure: quoted, 71, 105–106; referred to, 73, 76, 106, 108; strong advocate of permanent tenure, 72. See also Tenure.
National Education Association, Department of Classroom Teachers: referred to, 68, 76, 102.
National Education Association, Legislative Commission: drafted federal aid bill, 122–23; referred to, 144.
National Education Association, Research Bulletin: quoted, 69; referred to, 4, 26, 52, 53, 56, 57, 60, 66, 72, 76, 85, 87, 88, 94, 95, 100, 103, 104, 107, 113, 120, 147, 152.
National Education Association, Research Division: acknowledges assistance in preparation of reports, 44–45, 48, 195; publication of School Finance Systems, 153; referred to, 86, 123, 159, 172.
National Education Association, Research Division and National Council on Teacher Retirement: referred to, 109.
National Education Association, Salary Committee: quoted, 58; referred to, 53, 85, 88, 95.
National Education Association and American Association of School Administrators: Educational Research Service Circulars referred to, 89.
National Education Association and American Association of School Administrators, Educational Policies Commission: referred to, 147; report quoted, 54, 80.
National Society of College Teachers of Education: referred to, 57.
National Survey of the Education of Teachers: referred to, 57.
National Survey of Secondary Education: referred to, 66.
National Teacher Examinations: used in evaluation of teacher candidates, 68.
National Youth Administration: federal money given to, 122.
Negro teachers: race differentials in teachers' salaries, 88.
Negroes: need of better financial support of education for, 123.
Nemzek, C. L.: referred to, 18.
New Mexico Educational Association: referred to, 104.
Newcomer, Mabel: referred to, 135, 138, 140, 141.
Newkirk, M. R.: referred to, 20.
Newton, H. C.: referred to, 23.
Norton, John K.: referred to, 147.
Norton, Margaret A.: referred to, 147.

Odbert, H. S.: referred to, 29.
Odenweller, Arthur Leonard: referred to, 76.
Odum, Howard W.: referred to, 88, 124.
Ordinance of 1785: referred to, 121.
Orton, S. T.: referred to, 33.
Overn, Alfred V.: referred to, 112.
Owen, Ralph D.: referred to, 110.

Pace, C. R.: referred to, 33.
Pennsylvania School Laws: referred to, 94.
Phillips, A. J.: referred to, 33.
Pond, F. L.: referred to, 22.
Population: fertility ratio, 131, 134; mobility of, 124–25; percent of estimated net gain or loss thru migration, 1930-1940, 125; rates of birth and early childhood mortality, 131–33; ratio of school age children to adults, 131, 132, 133; relative educational responsibilities of the states, 131–34; school census as basis of apportioning general aid, 165–66, 186–89.
Postel, H. H.: referred to, 17.
Principals: evaluations of present reading programs, 11, 45, 46; questionnaire to, on high-school reading instruction, 44; reading problem as viewed by, 8, 45.
Punke, H. H.: referred to, 18.

Questionnaire: to principals, on high-school reading programs, 44; to superintendents, on personnel administration, 77–79, 114–15; to teachers, on high-school reading instruction, 44.

Rasche, William F.: referred to, 22.
Reading instruction in secondary schools: agencies and channels providing for, 10, 45; application of reading in study situation, 6–7; appropriate reading materials, 16–17, 36; attention given to pupil growth, 37; basic criteria for reading materials, 16; basic texts and workbooks, 16; capitalizing on pupils' known interests, 18–19; choosing materials for "first use," 20; collaboration of students in education classes, in present study, 44–45; common types and symptoms of reading difficulties, 14–15; common types of rate difficulties, 28; comparison of principals' ratings with provisions made, 11; cooperative effort in improving interests, 23; coordinated effort characterizes the reading program, 37; cultivating satisfactory reading rate, 28–29; current programs of, 8–11; curriculum status of, 10, 46; creating an interest in self-improvement, 19; departmental affiliation of, 10; evaluating outside reading, 22–23; forces focusing attention on problems of, 4; free reading, 20; frequency of class periods, 10; frequent difficulties in comprehension, 24; grade level of, 10; greater flexibility in reading habits, 37; hallmarks of effective reading program, 36–37; important emphases in classroom practice, 18–31; improving comprehension in reading, 23–26; improving interests and tastes in reading, 18–19; improving oral reading skills, 30–31; improving reading tastes, 22; improving study skills, 31–37; in regular classes, 10–11, 46; interest shown by high-school teachers, 8–9; magazines and newspapers, 16–17; oral reading in secondary education, 30; point of view of present study of, 5; practices used in improving comprehension, 24, 37; principals' evaluations of present programs, 11, 45, 46; procedures in oral reading, 30–31; providing a wealth of reading material, 19–20; provisions for individual differences, 15; pupils reached by, 9, 36; purpose and scope of present investigation, 6; reading, every teacher's problem, 5–7, 36, 45; reading experiences pleasant and inviting, 37; reading needs of individual pupils, 12–15, 36; reading problem as viewed by principals, 8, 45; reading program diversified and well balanced, 36–37; reading readiness at the high-school level, 23–24; regular testing programs, 11; remedial instruction in reading, 32–35; semantic approach to reading comprehension, 25; significant research findings pertaining to reading rate, 28–29; some handicapped readers the teacher may encounter, 14; sources of information and procedures, 7, 44–47; sources of materials, 17; specific suggestions on creating and strengthening reading interests, 20–22; suggestions for improving reading rate, 29; symptoms of reading handicaps frequently observed, 14–15; tabulations of questionnaire data, 44–47; teacher-made materials, 17; teacher-made tests, 12–13; time devoted to, 44; types of provisions made for, 10–11, 45, 46, 47; unique reading demands of high-school work, 5–6; use of the classics, 17; use of standardized tests, 12; vocabulary building, 26–28, 37. See also References.
Reavis, William C.: referred to, 70, 76, 112.
Reeder, Ward G.: referred to, 112.
Reeves, Floyd W.: referred to, 122, 147.
References: how-to-study books and manuals, 39; instructional helps for building vocabulary, 42; lists of instructional materials and professional references for teachers, 38–43; on administration of personnel program, 112; on evaluations of magazines in terms of pupil interest, 17; on factors associated with special reading disabilities, 32–33; on federal aid for education, 147; on free reading, 20; on improving study skills, 31; on interests of pupils as revealed by research studies, 18; on newspaper reading of high-school pupils, 17; on the place of the library in reading instruction, 23; on remedial procedures and devices, 35; on semantic approach and procedures, 25; on teacher selection and appointment, 76; on teaching phonics, 26; on textbook reading difficulty, 16; pertaining to oral reading or dramatics, 38; reading tests for high-school use, 42; reference sources consulted in preparation of bulletin on reading instruction, 45; selected booklists for high-school teachers and librarians, 41; selected list of professional references for teachers, 42–43; selected list of textbooks for high-school reading classes, 38; selected list of workbooks for high-school reading classes, 39; selected titles of easy practice materials, 40; significant research findings pertaining to reading rate, 28–29; sources of appropriate reading materials, 17.
Reller, Theodore L.: referred to, 76.
Remedial reading: as related to total program, 32; diagnosis of pupil difficulties, 32; duration of special class work, 34; factors associated with special reading disabilities, 32–33; general suggestions with respect to, 35; organization of separate reading classes, 33–34; remedial instruction in reading, 32–35; size of special reading classes, 34; some remedial procedures and devices, 34–35; special classes and the regular program, 34.
Residence: of teachers, as related to eligibility, 62–63; practices in appointment of local residents as teachers, 63.
Retirement: age or disability as a basis for termination of service, 109; financially sound system should be provided, 113.
Review of Educational Research: referred to, 45, 62, 64, 66.
Rizzo, N. D.: referred to, 28.
Robinson, F. P.: referred to, 28.
Roosevelt, Franklin D.: referred to, 120, 122.
Rostker, Leon E.: referred to, 76.
Rothenbush, Verona F.: referred to, 33.
Rothney, J. W. M.: referred to, 33.
Royster, Salibelle: referred to, 18.
Ryans, David G.: referred to, 69.

S. 1313: referred to, 123, 144–45, 146.
San Francisco Public Schools: report quoted, 110.
Sandt, Karl E.: referred to, 35.
Sattler, W. E.: referred to, 34.
Schmidt, B. G.: referred to, 33.
School buildings: special aid for, 174.
Schoonover, Ruth C.: referred to, 20.
Sears, Jesse B.: referred to, 112.
Seay, Maurice F.: referred to, 76.
Seegers, J. C.: referred to, 18.
Shortage of teachers: being caused by wartime demands, 61; scarcity threatens, 53.
Sisson, E. D.: referred to, 28, 29.
Smith-Hughes Act: referred to, 121.
Smith-Lever Act: referred to, 121.
Smith-Towner Bill: referred to, 122.
Social Security Board: referred to, 124.
Spache, George: referred to, 26.
Special classes: and the regular program, 34; duration of special class work, 34; in reading, curriculum status of, 46; organization of separate reading classes, 33–34; size of special reading classes, 34; special aid for, 173.
Springfield, Massachusetts, Public Schools: report quoted, 96.
Sterling-Reed Bill: referred to, 122.
Sterling-Towner Bill: referred to, 122.
Stoddard, A. J.: referred to, 76.
Stone, C. R.: referred to, 26.
Stouffer, S. M.: referred to, 76.
Strayer, George D.: quoted, 110.
Substitute teachers: policies governing employment of, 103.
Superintendents: comments of, regarding married women teachers, 108; preparation of eligibility lists by, 69–70; questionnaire on personnel administration answered by, 77–79, 85; responsibility of, for selection and appointment of teachers, 54–55, 75.
Supervision of instruction: special aid for, 173.
Swift, Fletcher Harper: referred to, 153.

Tax Institute: referred to, 161, 183.
Tax Research Foundation: referred to, 160.
Taxation: amicable adjustment of federal and state fiscal policies and programs, 176; estimated school revenue per child, 135, 137, 138; measures of financial ability based upon tax yields, 171; percent of increase in federal tax revenue drawn from each state, 1928-1937, 139; percent of relative taxpaying ability expended for public schools, 1935-36, 141, 142; percent of relative taxpaying ability required to support a school program, 143; rival advantages of legislative appropriations and earmarked taxes, 163; school revenue from earmarked taxes, 158–62, 175, 180–83; state and local systems hard pressed, 120; state general sales taxes, 161–62, 175, 183; state income taxes, 160–61, 175, 182; state property tax, 160, 161, 175, 181; state school revenues, 154–64; trends and problems in, 175–76. See also Economic ability; Finance.
Teacher employment conditions in service: administration of personnel program, 110–12; age or disability as basis for termination of service, 109; amount and nature of sick leave, 99–103; appraisal of service, 95, 113; causes for which teachers may be absent from duty without loss of pay, 91; dates of notification of termination of service, 104–105; development of personnel in service, 92–98, 113; dismissal of teachers in relation to tenure status, 106; distribution of personnel, 113; effect of marriage on employment status of women teachers in the school service, 107, 108; extended leaves of absence for travel and professional improvement, 93; frequency of cumulative sick leave plans in 1931 and in 1941, 103; handling of certain personnel procedures, 111; health services and sick leave for teachers, 99, 113; line of approach by teacher in seeking transfer of assignment, 97; marriage as a basis for termination of service, 107–109; month when notice of resignation is acceptable and month when reappointments are made, 104; opportunities and requirements for professional growth in service, 92–95, 113; organization for personnel administration, 110–11; outside paid activities of teachers, 89–90; participation by teachers in framing personnel policies, 112; part-time employment of teachers during school year, 90; period and frequency of payments, 88–89; policies governing employment of substitute teachers, 103; practices governing termination of service of older teachers, 109; procedures followed in dismissal of teachers, 105–107; professional equivalents for academic study requirements, 94; promotional procedures affecting classroom teachers, 98; race differentials in teachers' salaries, 88; requirements for additional study, 94; sabbatical leave, 94; salaries and related factors, 86–91, 113; salary differentials, 86–88; salary differentials based on grade level, 88; salary payments or deductions during brief absences, 91; salary schedules, 87–88; selected references on administration of personnel program, 112; sex differentials in teachers' salaries, 88; sick leave and related problems, 99–103; substitute service, 103; suggested guiding principles in establishing, on professional basis, 113; teacher participation in personnel administration, 111–12; termination of service, 104–109, 113; three bases for salary differentials among teachers of equal training and experience, 86, 87; transfers and promotions, 96, 113; types and uses of ratings on quality of teaching service, 96.

Teacher participation: in framing personnel policies, 112; in personnel administration, 111–12.

Teacher personnel procedures: administration of personnel program, 110–12; appointment and orientation, 71–74; development of personnel in service, 92–98; the line of progress, 113; number of school systems included in study of, 77; planned personnel procedures needed, 113; questionnaire used to collect data on, 77–79, 114–15; questions asked about, 53; recruitment and evaluation of candidates, 64–70; responsibility for selection and appointment of teachers, 54–55; salaries and related factors, 86–91; scope and procedure of study of, 77–79; selected references on administration of personnel program, 112; selected references on selection and appointment, 76; sick leave and related problems, 99–103; standards of eligibility for appointment, 56–63; summary of, in selection and appointment, 75; termination of service, 104–109.

Teacher selection and appointment: age limits for appointment of new teachers, 59; appointment and orientation, 71–74; basic principles in, 54; board rules on marriage, 61; description of eligibility lists, 70; division of responsibility between board of education and superintendent in, 55, 75; educational preparation, 56–57, 75; educational qualifications required of newly appointed teachers, 1941, 57; experience requirements for newly appointed teachers, 58; guiding principle suggested, 113; helping new teachers to get started, 74; how applicants for teaching positions are recruited, 64; how city school systems employ new teachers, 75; induction of new teachers, 74; interviewing applicants for teaching positions, 67; local residence as related to eligibility, 62–63, 75; marriage as related to eligibility, 60–61, 75; may married women qualify for appointment as teachers?, 60, 75; most productive practices in recruitment, 65; percent of cities requiring not less than four years of preparation of newly appointed teachers, 56, 75; practices governing the term of employment for teachers, 73, 75; practices in appointment of local residents as teachers, 63, 75; preparation of eligibility lists, 69–70, 75; previous teaching experience, 58; procedures for appraisal of candidates, 66; recruiting new teachers, 64–65; recruitment and evaluation of candidates, 64–70; responsibility for, 54–55, 75; selected references on, 76; six stages in process of, 55; source and scope of written examination, 68–69; standards of eligibility for, 56–63; summary of procedures in, 75; teachers' contracts, 71; term of employment, 72–73, 75; use of written contracts for teachers, 71; usual practices in selecting teachers, 66.

Teachers: activities for, in enactment of federal aid bill, 146–47; importance of quality of the teaching staff, 52, 84; interest in reading shown by high-school, 8–9, 45; lists of instructional materials and professional references for, 38–43; maintaining morale of, a continuing responsibility, 84; number of, as basis of apportioning general aid, 166, 167, 186–89; questionnaire to, on high-school reading instruction, 44; reading, every teacher's problem, 5–7, 36; scarcity of, threatens, 53; some handicapped readers the teacher may encounter, 14; teacher-made reading materials, 17; teacher-made reading tests, 12–13; teaching situation in which 320 teachers are doing outstanding work in some phase of reading, 47; time devoted to reading instruction, 44. See also Teacher personnel procedures.

Teachers' contracts: obligation of teachers in adhering to, 105; suggested minimum essentials of, 71; use of written, 71.

Teachers' salaries: amount of sick leave and proportion of salary granted in cities of five population groups, 100–102; and related factors, 86–91; as basis of apportioning general aid, 166, 167, 186–89; average salaries paid, 126, 129; guiding principle suggested, 113.

Tenure: dismissal of teachers in relation to, 106; practices governing the term of employment for teachers, 73, 75; state tenure laws not a complete guarantee against discrimination, 108; teachers' contracts, 71; term of employment, 72–73, 75, 113; termination of service, 104–109, 113. See also National Education Association, Committee on Tenure.

Testing: analysis of oral reading errors, 13; becoming acquainted with pupil reading needs, 12–14; conferences with individual pupils, 13; evaluating outside reading, 22–23; observation of pupils' reading, 13–14; procedures for appraisal of teacher candidates, 66; reading tests for high-school use, 42; regular programs of, in secondary-school reading instruction, 11; source and scope of written examination of teacher candidates, 68–69; teacher-made reading tests, 12–13; use of available records and reports, 13; use of standardized reading tests, 12.

Textbooks: for high-school reading classes, 38; reading difficulty of basic, 16; references on reading difficulty of, 16; special aid for free, 173.

Thomas, Elbert D.: and federal aid bill, 123.

Thompson, Harry A.: referred to, 9.

Thorndike, R. L.: referred to, 18.

Time, Inc.: referred to, 108.

Tinker, Miles A.: referred to, 28.

Transportation of pupils: special aid for, 174.

Traxler, Arthur E.: referred to, 12, 45.

Trends: in state school finance, 120, 152, 175–76; progress in teacher personnel practices encouraging, 52, 113.

Trent, W. W.: referred to, 155.

Triggs, Frances O.: referred to, 35.

Tuition: special aid for tuition of nonresident pupils, 174.

U. S. Bureau of the Census: referred to, 123, 130, 132, 134, 136, 137, 144, 145.

U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue: referred to, 144, 145.

U. S. Commissioner of Education: to allot federal aid money, 123, 144.

U. S. Department of Commerce: quoted, 196; referred to, 136.

U. S. Department of the Interior, General Land Office: referred to, 121.

U. S. House of Representatives: bill providing for tax exemption of sales to war contractors, 162.

U. S. House of Representatives, Committee on Education: referred to, 123.

U. S. House of Representatives, Committee To Investigate Migration of Destitute Citizens: referred to, 124, 125.

U. S. Office of Education: referred to, 97, 123, 127, 129, 130, 137, 141, 145, 179.

U. S. Senate, Committee on Education and Labor: referred to, 123, 147.

U. S. Supreme Court: decision of, 162.

Vocabulary building: growth in pupils' vocabularies, 37; instructional helps for, 42; phonetic training, 26; specific ways of building vocabulary, 27-28; systematic versus incidental word study, 26; vocabulary needs of high-school pupils, 26.

Vocational education: special aid for, 172–73, 192–93.

War: effect of wartime demands for women workers on dismissal of teachers who marry, 109; emphasizes need for federal aid to education, 121; good schools essential in wartime, 120, 153; impact on schools, 84; necessity of postwar planning, 176; wartime demands causing shortage of teachers, 61.

Washington Post: referred to, 61.

Webb, Holmes: referred to, 25.

Weber, Samuel E.: referred to, 112.

Wells, Ruth E.: referred to, 18.

Wilking, S. V.: referred to, 32.

Wilmington, Delaware, Board of Education: referred to, 110.

Wiltse, Earl W.: referred to, 23.

Wimbish, W. R.: referred to, 76.

Witty, Paul: referred to, 13, 18, 33, 35.

Wood, Ben D.: referred to, 70.

Woody, Clifford: referred to, 23.

Young, William E.: referred to, 33.

Zeigel, William H.: referred to, 76.

Zimmerman, Bruce R.: referred to, 153.